RED HOT TALK BY SPEAKER

Miss Martin Tells Railroad Men Labor Troubles Are Pending Today.

APPEAL FOR DEBS

Speaker Says Five Million Are Today Jobless—Edward L. Keating Also Addresses Gathering.

"Higher wages and shorter hours don't get what you want,'" declared Miss Lilith Martin, of Los Angeles, Cal., a member of the political amnesty committee, in addressing a mass meeting held last night in the Opera House under the auspices of the Joint Association of Railroad Employees of Washington and Alexandria which was attended by a large gathering of railroad men.

The speaker declared that the only way to solve the problem is for the men to interest themselves in a plan that will enable them a reasonable length of time for recreation and enjoyment. Capital and labor interests she declared are not the same. The employer she asserts fights the laborer because he wants all of the profits he can get. The "Great American Plan," she declared is to do away with collective bargaining. Labor troubles she declared are pending today, and told her hearers that if they did not stick they will go to pieces. Both the democratic and republican parties were criticised by the speaker who said they have slogans to catch the people and the people swallow them hook and line. According to Miss Martin there are five million men out of work today and she added that a little group of people in this country control the jobs.

Miss Martin told her hearers not to be satisfied with half a loaf when they can get a whole loaf. Labor she declared made the world what it is today and the way to go about getting what you want she said is through industrial organization and a political party. The speaker made a plea for the release of Eugene V. Debs. The United States she declared is the only country in the world that has refused to free war time prisoners.

Edward L. Keating, of Washington, editor of the railroad paper, "Labor" addressed the gathering. He said he did not know that labor was facing a crisis. He added that he never knew a time when labor was not facing some crisis. Continuing he said: "The only thing I want to know is that the sixteen railroad labor organizations will stand together and there is no power on God's earth that can stop them." When the battle comes discipline is necessary he said and the men should follow their leader. He urged all to come within the fold and he declared that labor seeks justice and he added that labor is a political power. There is he said no substitute for the union and without it little can be accomplished he said.

The meeting was presided over by J. J. Forrester, late of the United States Railroad Labor Board. This board he declared is child of the railroad's creation. He said he did not believe the board can ever function satisfactorily. Letters of regret were read from Representative George Huddleson, Alabama; Glenn E Plumb, author of the Plumb plan; Representative Roy Fitzgerald, of Ohio, and the speaker said that Seantor Robert M. La Follette was unable to attend.

Officials are investigating his case.

NORTHCLIFFE QUITS CAPITAL

Refused All Courtesy By British Embassy During Visit.

DENIES INTERVIEW

Meets Intended Guests of Canceled Affair At McLean Dinner—At Harding Conference.

Washington, July 30.—Lord Northcliffe, the most widely known newspaper publisher of the British Isles, left Washington tonight, after a two-day visit without having been entertained at the British Embassy and without having received from Embassy officials any of those attentions usually accorded by foreign diplomats to distinguished fellow-countrymen.

Despite the Embassy's withdrawal of the dinner invitation, Lord Northcliffe was understood to have met at a dinner given tonight by Mrs. E. B. McLean, wife of the Washington publisher, at her country home, most of the guests he would have met at the proposed Embassy dinner. Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, and a personal friend of the Viscount, was understood to have been one of the guests at the McLean dinner, and undoubtedly he and the publisher met again. Lord Northcliffe called on Sir Auckland yesterday to pay his respects. Many members of the Cabinet and of Congress also were understood to have been among tonight's guests.

The single new develpoment here today in the controversy between Lord Northcliffe and Lord George was a reply by the publisher to the statement read in the House of Commons by Premier Lloyd George and authorized by King George. The reply, made in the form of a cablegram sent to Lord Stamfordham, private secretary to the King, was made public as follows:

"Please convey to his Majesty with my humble duty my denial of ever having ascribed to his Majesty the word or words as stated by the Prime Minister today. I gave no such interview."

Leaving here tonight after the McLean dinner, Lord Northcliffe will arrive early tomorrow in New York and after spending the day there, will depart for Vancouver by way of Toronto. He will board ship at Vancouver for his trip to Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, the Philippines and India.

The Viscount spent a busy day in Washington today. He was entertained at luncheon by the Overseas Writers, an organization of American newspaper men who have done work abroad, and later in the day joined the regular working newspaper men of the capital at President Harding's semi-weekly conference. The British publisher showed great interest in the President's talk with the newspaper men, but asked no questions of Mr. Harding. Later, through a heavy rainstorm, he went to the Capitol and visited the Senate press gallery. The Senate had adjourned and he did not call on any Senators. He made a brief talk to the correspondents in the gallery, mostly of a "shop" nature.

London, July 30.—Prime Minister Lloyd George in the House of Commons today read a statement by King George declaring words attributed to the King concerning the Government's Irish policy in a reported interview in the United States by Lord Northcliffe, who controls the London Times, are "a complete fabrication."

It was at first thought that she had been injured internally, but an examination disclosed she was only burned and suffered from shock.

The little girl was playing in an alley beside her home out of which she was running when she collided with the truck. She was immediately taken to the hospital for treatment.

EDITORIAL

A very heavy firing was heard at Washington and this place in the direction of Annapolis—it lasted for nearly two hours.—It is apprehended an attack has been made on that place by the British. If so, we shall probably learn the particulars this day.

ARMISTICE.

A letter from Boston states that a British frigate was spoken at sea, from which information was obtained that an armistice was concluded between the United States and Great Britain. Our Boston letter is silent on the subject, though it mentions the frigate Sabine, said to have been spoken, and to have given the information. The story is very improbable.

This crew with three canoes left Alexandria Sunday, July 17, for Gosham, which is located on the headwaters of the James. They started their trip downward on July 18 and because of the numerous rapids which they encountered, they were unable to make schedule time. They tried many of the rapids and many times they were capsized. Just before reaching Lynchburg one canoe was caught in the rough water and was destroyed The original plan would have had them in Norfolk yesterday, but owing to circumstances, they found themselves in Lynchburg.

Despite the difficulties encountered a very enjoyable outing was reported.

BIG BUSINESS IS PREDICTED

Result Of Survey Made Public By President Harding.

CITIES DISCOUNT CUT

Points To Treasury's Record Regarding Refunding Short Term Obligations.

Washington, July 30.—The Harding Administration made public yesterday its first general survey of the financial situation of the country, and after showing what measures had been taken to relieve business of the burdens oppressing it, prophesied a general and decisive improvement in the immediate future.

This survey was made public at the White House by direction of the President just before the Executive left for New England to take part in the Plymouth tercentennial celebration. The President regarded the steps taken by himself and by his administration for strengthening business as of such importance that he felt some comprehensive summary of the Government's activities should be presented to the American people.

The most important of the developments in the President's mind is the reduction in discount rates put into effect successively by the individual Federal Reserve banks. These rates, it is shown, have been reduced one-half of 1 per cent. most cases and 1 per cent. in some.

Referring to this phase of the business situation, the White House statement says:

"Perhaps the most important development has been the action taken by the Federal Reserve banks in reducing discount rates. This action is calculated to relieve the stagnation of business and at the same time give authoritative recognition of the improvement in credit conditions justifying the policy of reduced rates.

"It is unsafe," the White House says "to prophesy concerning conditions in the future, but it may be expected that recognition will be given to further improvements in conditions in accordance with the dictates of sound banking practice." This observation is taken to mean in Washington that the Administration looks for still further reduction In discount rates.

Turning to the activities of the Treasury Department proper, the statement shows that refunding of short-term obligations is now in progress. Referring to the success of these efforts the White House says:

"The Treasury on its part has, during the last four months, successfully inaugurated its new policy of refunding the short-dated debt of the Government and distributing the early maturities over the period between the maturity of the Victory loan in 1923 and the Third Liberty loan in 1928. The first offeringof Treasury notes pursuant to this policy met with a most enthusiastic response, and the further development of the program should bring about a better distribution of the public debt and much improved market conditions for Government securities. There has already been a marked improvement in the market prices of Liberty bonds and Victory notes, and the market for all outstanding issues of short-term Government securities is in better shape than at any time since the depression."

The White House also refers at some length to the resumption of active operations by the War Finance Corporation. This corporation, it is pointed out, has now agreed to finance large quantities of cotton.

VERBAL GUNS ARE TURNED ON PLAYERS.

Chicago, July 30.—Final arguments in the baseball trial were begun today, with the State directing a two-hour attack on the defendants, in which the former White Sox players were pictured as "traitors, who for $100,000 of dirty money, sold their souls, betrayed their comrades and the public and conspired to make the one truly American pleasure and sport—baseball—a confidence game."

Chas. H. Smith Favors Union Labor.

July 25, 1921.

Mr. M. B. Thompson, President,
Trades Council,
Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Mr. Thompson:

I am pleased to answer your inquiry of last week which was communicated to me by you in person.

In the beginning, permit me to say that I have always been sympathetic with the cause of organized labor. I believe that only through your united and organized efforts you have been able to attain a greater efficiency in your own ranks and to improve the conditions of the working man to its present level. Personally, I have never been antagonistic to organized labor and have at all times, I believe, maintained the respect and confidence of the working man.

During last year, I built a house in the City of Alexandria and in the course of construction, I presume, there were several dozen men employed and at no time was any workman allowed on the job until I was satisfied that he held a union card and was in good standing in his local. That I believe, answers the question as to how I feel personally towards organized labor.

As you know, I am a candidate for the office of House of Delegates from this District and I solicit the vote of organized labor. And in doing so, I feel that my record justifies me in asking the support of organized labor in general. If elected, I shall be glad to be called upon at any time by duly constituted representatives of your organization with an idea of representing your best interests in our Legislative Body. While, I wish it understood that if I am elected. I shall go to my duties as an independant Democrat, untrammelled and owing allegiance to no political machine or faction of men, but rather a representative of the people—the masses, from which I am proud to say I came.

I favor broadening the scope of our present workman's Compensation Laws to include all crafts of labor exposed to the same hazards while at work. I favor any reasonable and fair law which seeks to better the living and working conditions of the laboring man. I am against the anti-strike law or any legislation which seeks to throttle the legitimate organized operation of organized labor.

Finally, if I am elected to the legislature I shall expect to use my best efforts at all times to represent fairly and honestly the whole people looking to the best interests of my district and the state at large. I shall be glad to be called upon at any time by organized labor and I promise to use my efforts towards the bettering of living conditions and working conditions generally. I reserve at all times however, my own individual opinion, but shall be guided by my own conscience and not by the dictates of any man or set of men.

I earnestly solicit your support and trust that upon investigation you will agree that I am most logical and best fitted man to represent you in our next General Assembly.

Sincerely yours,
CHARLES HENRY SMITH.

Little River Turnpike

Views of Capt. E. W. Jordan Cives Views on Highway.

The above is a sketch of the Little River Turnpike designated as route No. 6 by the Virginia State Highway's Commission.

Capt. E. W. Jordan, candidate for the legislate, commenting on the road said:

Several weeks ago, I took advantage of the occasion to go over this road as far as Middleburg. In some places, and generally speaking, this road is almost impassable. The people I talked on the route, principally farmers, were profoundly interested in the prospects of having the Little River Turnpike a highway for their products to reach an immediate point of sale. Also, some spoke very favorably of using it to go to Alexandria and Washington for pleasure trips.

Building highways for Virginia is the largest business enterprise in the State. And, I believe it is the desire of the people of Virginia to go ahead with the construction of State and county highways as rapidly as they can efficiently be constructed.

In my stand for the Little River Highway, I am irretrievable and irreversible for the route as is proposed and as the sketch shows. Not only do I know that the city of Alexandria will be greatly benefited by this road in opening up the rich farming districts and bring fresh produce directly to the consumer, but also the farmer will find in Alexandria a plentiful supply of merchandise for both his farm and household.

Another attractive angle, from my view point, is, that the middle man will be eliminated. I am a firm believer in teh farmer presenting his products to the consumer.

My letter to the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce and published in the Alexandria Gazette states very emphatically that I am for the Little River Turnpike in particular, and other good county and state roads in general; it also contains some remarks as to why I am for it—from a purely business standpoint, perhaps it is not as clear and concise to the readers as I would have it, so I am writing this that there can be no mistake as to how and where I stand. And further, I am unalterably opposed to the road cutting across or entering into Arlington county from any junction. Very few people in Arlington County could possibly derive any benefit whatsoever by this road going through the county, and if the Louisiana Avenue merchants want to use this road to transport produce from the Valley, they will have to suffer the road and the produce coming through Alexandria.

Mrs. H. A. Miles, 1209 Prince St., Alexandria, says: "My back pained so I couldn't do housework without a great deal of misery. I had sharp twinges through the small of my back over my kidneys and I felt weak and lanquid. Mornings I hated to get up. My kidneys were sluggish. ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.
The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.
If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The New Buick "Four"

VALVE-IN-HEAD BUICK MOTOR CARS

Here is a Thoroughbred Four Completing the Famed Buick Line

The new Four-Cylinder Buick, here announced, is a thoroughbred—a pedigreed car well worthy of its name.

Down to the very last detail, this new model possesses every quality of enduring serviceability, complete comfort, and distinctive appearance that have always characterized Buick automobiles.

The advent of this new Four makes the Buick 1922 line complete. It offers to purchasers of a car of this size all the quality and service that go to make up the name "Buick."

The Buick Valve-in-Head Engine—A Power Plant That Has Proved Itself

The engine, of course, is of the time-tested Buick Valve-in-Head type. The year-after-year concentration of Buick's engineering skill and experience in building Valve-in-Head motors assures the highest standard of performance obtainable today.

Every other unit is of a quality equal to the power plant. The whole assembly constitutes a perfectly balanced chassis which is of typical Buick construction. The equipment of Cord Tires is merely evidence of the quality which characterizes the entire car.

Two open and two closed body types mounted on the Buick built chassis comprise the new series.

Even the most casual inspection of the details of design and workmanship will reveal that full measure of quality which motorists have learned to associate with Buick.

A Great Car—Prices Make It An Even Greater Value

Obviously a high grade automobile—a genuine Buick production—the prices listed below make this great Four even greater. A value such as this is possible only because of the combination of Buick engineering skill devoted to the one ideal of quality, Buick production facilities developed over nearly a quarter of a century, and Buick's nation-wide distribution and service organization.

The Buick Motor Company is proud of the Buick Four. It has the faith of long experience in this newest addition to its line. It places upon it unreservedly the Buick guarantee carried by every Buick automobile produced. That its confidence is well placed is manifested not only by the keen interest with which motorists have awaited this announcement, but also the advance orders placed by distributors, dealers, and the general public.
